

This game has been more than a four year undertaking for our entire company. So many people have made what you hold in your hands possible, but none more so than our backers. Thank you for your support, your comments, your criticisms, your playtesting, and of course, your purchase.

Our deepest hope is this is a game you play and treasure for not just years, but decades to come. A game of this scope and of this level of production could only ever happen through the magic of crowdfunding.

So thank you, backers! May your adventures in Tamriel bring hours and hours of fantastic memories and fun!
